
CURRICULUM VITAE

JACQUES DELEN

(°1949, Belgian)

Non-executive director (since 1992)

Jacques Delen obtained the degree of stockbroker in 1976. He is chairman of the board of directors of Delen Private Bank since July 1, 2014. He is also a director of Bank Van Breda and Scaldis Invest. Jacques Delen was chairman of the board of directors of Ackermans & van Haaren from 2011 to 2016. With his 50 years of deep expertise in the banking sector, Jacques Delen emphasizes sustainable wealth management, encompassing balanced growth and a long-term perspective.

MARION DEBRUYNE

(°1972, Belgian)

Independent non-executive director (since 2016)

Professor Marion Debruyne has a degree in civil engineering (University of Ghent, 1995) and a PhD in applied economic sciences (University of Ghent, 2002). She has lectured at Wharton School, Kellogg Graduate School of Management, and Goizueta Business School, all in the USA. Marion Debruyne was appointed dean of Vlerick Business School in 2015. She is a director at Kinopolis, Guberna and Kom op Tegen Kanker. As the dean of Vlerick Business School, she leads initiatives to integrate sustainability (ESG) into education and research.

PIERRE WILLAERT

(°1959, Belgian)

Non-executive director (since 1998)

Pierre Willaert holds a master's degree in commercial and financial sciences and obtained a diploma from the Belgian Association of Financial Analysts (ABAF-BVFA). Pierre Willaert was a managing partner, and member of the audit committee, at Bank Paribas, until the acquisition by KBL in 2004. After an initial period as head of the financial analysts team at the bank, he launched and managed the first inhouse SICAVs, and later established the Institutional Management department. He is also a director at Tein Technology, an ICT company in Brussels specialising in, among other things, 'control rooms'. Pierre Willaert was chairman of the audit committee of Ackermans & van Haaren for 20 years.